Two small changes in route choice reduce fuel consumption to the tune of £400,000.

Paul Britton from Thomson Holidays explained how simple itinerary changes have saved fuel and money.

Thomson Cruises Changing cruises to 'go with the wind' to save fuel and money.

Thomson Cruises has changed itineraries to 'go with the wind' to reduce fuel consumption.

The approach to responsibility is discussed at the RTD8 conference.

Next up at RTD8 is Andy Cooper, Director of external affairs at Thomas Cook UK, discussing their efforts to take responsibility.

Hard task ahead for Thomson Cruises, according to Sarah Loftus.

Place Management discusses the sustainability of the conference, noting the proximity of the venue to their flat.
